

Your Design Guide to Home & Style | Spectrix

KATIE HAGAR | NOVEMBER 21, 2014

Spectrix Card Game

What to do when an uncomfortable lull sets in amongst a friendly/family gathering? Pull out the cards, of course. And, seeing as not everyone knows that complicated card game that everybody else and their aunt plays every Thursday, why not mix it up with a color card game called Spectrix? It's a play on the card game Rummy, just extremely simplified- it's based on groups of color matches and sequences. No need to read suits or numbers, so it's appropriate for all ages. Just build strategic groups of color to play out your hand. Easy, right?

Designer: Julien Sharp

Manufacturer: Funnybone Toys

Country: China

Available from Cooper-Hewitt Shop, $15.00.