

Fanlala Gift Guide: Arrazzles from Funnybone Toys

NOVEMBER 29, 2013

In an era of technology, smartphones, and tablets, sometimes you just need a gift that reaches out and really plays with your imagination.

Arrazzles are an interesting building toy unlike anything that we've tried. At first, they look like simple cardboard discs, but you'll notice that each one has a different pattern of slots. This is so you can build any of the endless possibilities that your mind can come up with. We got to try out a set of Arrazzles, and you'd be surprised how much time went by before we realized it was time to get back to work!

If you're looking for that perfect gift for someone who doesn't need a fancy tablet or wants a way to expand their creativity, Arrazzles from Funnybone Toys. Some of our creations included a duck, a car, and some of us just pieced the bits and pieces together until we came up with a shape that just looked cool!

Funnybone Toys has a whole array of puzzles and games that you can check out, and they're perfect for the upcoming holiday season! Check out their website at FunnyboneToys.com!
