Funnybone Toys Focuses on the Art of the Game

Funnybone Toys was founded in 2011 when its creators noticed that, though many games were very artistically done, very few put graphics at the forefront of their products. Funnybone Toys was created to put aesthetics first in the making of their games, designing them to be not only thought-provoking and fun to play, but visually pleasing as well

Parents who are interested in the development of their child's creativity will certainly be interested in the Rolli Stamp. It is a wonderful collection of pre-formed stamps that children can roll onto virtually any surface and can use in the creation of a variety of art-related projects, including wrapping paper, personal stationery, scrapbook pages, holiday or greeting cards, and newsletters.

One feature which parents will find particularly attractive is its no-mess design – there is no ink pad to stain clothes and fingers. Rolli Stamp comes in an array of colors and designs that will be attractive to parents as well as children.
