

Disruptus game from Funnybone toys

MARCH 14, 2014

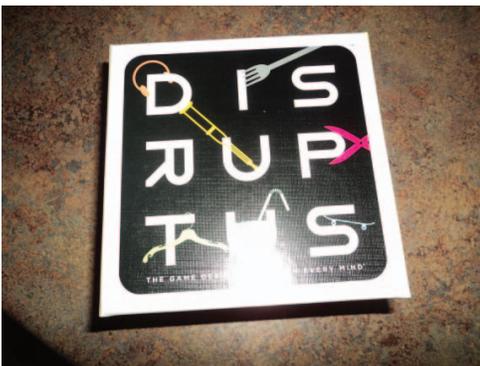

I received this item for the purposes of this review. Opinions are my own.

I am always telling my daughter to get off of the computer. She loves playing games online which some would argue is rotting our children's brains. I don't know if that is true but I do think there is some truth to it. Anytime we are staring at a screen we aren't really using our full brain potential. I am convinced the old saying comes in to play, if you don't use it, you will lose it. So I have been on the hunt for fun things to do as a family. In my attempts to pull her away from the online game wasteland, we have tried some good old fashioned sit at the table together and play kind of games. Remember those?

Funnybone toys has created a great game called Disruptus. This game challenges all of it's players to use their mind in the most creative ways possible. This game asks you to use 4 different approaches to innovate create, improve, transform, or disrupt. It inspires us to look at things differently and hone in on our disruptive thinking skills. Disruptive thinking is looking at an object or idea and coming up with an entirely different way to achieve the same end. It is one of the most powerful ways to innovate. It has been used to create ideas like digital music and camera phones. This is the kind of game we want our kids to spend the afternoon playing.

Disruptus comes with 100 image cards, 10 innovative Canvas Cards, 6 guide cards, 1 game die, 1 minute timer, 1 ideapad. The innovative canvas cards are meant for drawing your own images and adding to the fun of the game! When you roll the dice and land on create, you use 2 cards and take anything from the 2 cards to use for creating a new object or idea. If you roll improve then you add or change 1 or more things on the card to improve the idea. Roll transform and you can come up with a way to use the object on the card for a different purpose. Roll Disrupt and you are challenged to look at the picture, know the purpose of the object and then create a different way to achieve the same purpose.

This game is sure to be a family favorite. It has all of the potential of a fun family game and it prompts your kids to think, you can't beat that! Check out Funnybone Toys and get your family thinking with your very own Disruptus game. Be sure to follow Funnybone games on twitter and like them on facebook.
